Company Safeguards

The Company takes reasonable measures to discover and protect against attempts to gain unauthorized access to CPNI. The Company has safeguards in place to protect against unauthorized access to CPNI. The Company authenticates a customer prior to disclosing CPNI based on customer initiated telephone contact or an in-store visit.

The Company only discloses call detail information over the telephone, based on customer-initiated telephone contact, if the customer first provides a password that is not prompted by the carrier asking for readily available biographical information or account information. If a customer does not provide a password, Company only discloses call detail information by sending it to an address of record or by calling the customer at the telephone of record. If the customer is able to provide call detail information during a customer-initiated call without Company's assistance, then Company is permitted to discuss the call detail information provided by the customer.

The Company has established a system of passwords and password protection. For a new customer, Company requests that the customer establish a password at the time of service initiation. For existing customers to establish a password, Company must first authenticate the customer without the use of readily available biographical information or account information. Company authenticates a customer using non-public information such as calling the customer at the telephone number of record or using a Personal Identification Number (PIN) method to authenticate a customer.

For accounts that are password protected, Company cannot obtain the password by asking for readily available biographical information or account information to prompt the customer for his password.

A customer may access call detail information by establishing an online account or by visiting a carrier's retail location.

If a password is forgotten or lost, Company uses a back-up customer authentication method that is not based on readily available biographical information or account information.

If a customer does not want to establish a password, the customer may still access call details based on a customer –initiated telephone call, by asking Company to send the call detail information to an address of record or by the carrier calling the telephone number of record.

Company protects online access to all CPNI, call detail and no-call detail.

Company provides customers with access to CPNI at a carrier's retail location if the customer presents a valid photo ID and the valid photo ID matches the name on the account.

Company has procedures and policies in place to notify a customer immediately when a password, customer response to a back-up means of authentication for lost or forgotten passwords, online account, or address of record is created or changed.

In the event of a CPNI breach, Company complies with the FCC's rules regarding notice to law enforcement and customers. Company maintains records of any discovered breaches and notifications to the United States Secret Service (USSS) and the FBI regarding those breaches, as well as the USSS and the FBI responses to the notifications for a period of at least two years.
